BEST REASON TO SPEND ALL DAY IN THE KITCHEN

The kitchen at Chefmakers Cooking Academy [below]—outfitted with Wolf ovens, Sub-Zero fridges and Italian cabinetry—is the stuff of all high-end foodies' dreams. Open the drawer at one of the eight workstations, and you'll find an array of Chroma, Messermeister and Kershaw Shun knives. Founder and CEO Richard Klein has clearly paid intense attention to detail in opening the Pacific Palisades school, which also includes a retail shop. There's something for everyone here, from children's classes to a Sunday brunch series for families, to demonstrations by such celebrity chefs as Celestino Drago. Convenient registration for classes is available at www.chefmakers.com. 872 N. Via de la Paz, Pacific Palisades, 310.459.9444. —Sarah DiGregorio
